

Mai and Ni

This is an abandoned kitten
He was only one month old

We decided to take him home and named him Mai

Because he was very weak
So we guarded him all night

Good thing he woke up later
"Little one, you have home now."

Seeing Mai eating on his own,
we were much relieved

He just watched us from afar

Little eyes full of big doubts

After getting acquainted with Mai found himself a good place

Sleeping, of course, should also be here

(Maybe it's his persistence...)

My friend took him on her lap
Look how sound he was sleeping

The doctor said Mai was healthy except for a slight ear mite

On the way home
He also met new friends

For the medicine and collar
Mai did not resist at all

Even fell asleep on the new pillow

Until I bought him a new toy...

But he likes to rest on my hand the most

Whether left or right hand

(When I tried to take my hand away...)

Worried about Mai being alone
So we planned to take Ni home

And Ni became Mai's sister

When Ni first arrived home
Mai was a little overwhelmed

Until I took out cat teasing stick!
That's how they became friends

Sleeping together...

Eating together...

Waiting to be fed together...

Getting fat together...

Licking hair together in the sun...

Exploring new things together...

Hunting together

Pouting at us together...

Supervising us to shovel together...

Doing naughty things together...

Taking over my bed together...

Discussing tactics together

But they also argue over food...

Fighting over who shower first...

Gambling over who gets the prey...

Mai is simple and active

And Ni is smart and cautious

Mai is a walking Emoji Pack

And Ni is a demure princess

Mai hates going to the hospital

Ni also hates

Mai hates bathing

Ni hates even more

For shaving feet hair...

It's Ni's enemy for life

Mai still likes to rest on my hand

Ni prefers massage

They spent my birthday with me...

Sleeping with me...

Staying up late with me...

Mai helped me to search for information

Ni helped me write the code

We spent Christmas together

Mai said he could help me make my wish come true

They woke up with me on countless mornings

Also tried to retain me

But in the end we still have to face the separation

This is all because I'm going to graduate school abroad

My friend took them to their new home

And then... Wait for me to come home again
